Some people take things as they come. Others relentlessly push themselves to go farther. For these high performers, a position on a team at Optum, a business of UnitedHealth Group, is a natural fit. We offer more than talent, resources, and a can-do culture. We offer a place to improve the lives of others while doing your life’s best work.SM

HouseCalls Nurse Practitioner – Optum
There are so many incredible reasons to choose a career with UnitedHealth Group, but the most important things you need to know are that in this role, you will have:

- More time with the patient
  - You can be thorough, build a relationship, see more through the prism of their surroundings and lifestyle choices, including diet, stress factors, proactive factors, etc.
  - You can improve the health and lives of others with the opportunity for uninterrupted patient dialogue and education.

- More impact on the patient’s health
  - You have a positive impact on the health and life of every patient you see. You are their first point of access to the exceptional quality of UnitedHealth Group’s resources.

- The most schedule flexibility available
  - While we have high expectations for performance, we provide you with unequalled flexibility in terms of scheduling and managing your visitation plan.
  - Opportunity for Per Diem, Part-Time and Full-Time employment (minimum of 12 hours per week required).

- The best blend of autonomy and community
  - You have tremendous autonomy, but have the backing of the entire UnitedHealth Group team, as well as your collaborative physician and the patient’s care givers.
  - Connections. Our Nurse Practitioners feel deeply connected to one another and to their colleagues across the organization.

The best opportunities make you feel right at home. At work.
Nurse Practitioner Opportunities with UnitedHealth Group and Care Improvement Plus. Some people need to get a life. Most of us just want to get more out of it. This is an opportunity to do just that. Join us in this role and you’ll be bringing all of the resources of a world-class health care organization to our members in a more personal one-to-one manner right in their homes. For the Nurse Practitioner who believes that great care starts with in-depth assessment, this is where you belong.

How many ways can a job be right? Let’s count. You’re creating your own schedule. You’re working independently (while a world-class organization has your back). You have the most advanced technology tools in our industry. You’re assessing patients in a setting that enhances your insight and your impact. And on top of all that, you don’t need to bring your work home with you. Put it all together and you can see why this opportunity can lead to doing your life’s best work.™

Responsibility

As a HouseCalls Nurse Practitioner with Optum, you’ll conduct in-home health assessments on enrolled Medicare Advantage members within a geographic area of responsibility. The nature of the HouseCalls visit can vary and could include performing an annual health assessment, a post discharge visit, or visiting more complex members more than once per year. The results? Fewer hospitalizations, ER visits and costly service gaps; and a less stressed, more effective health care system for all of us.

While the work is quite fulfilling, there are challenges, as well. Change is a constant here. You’ll need an ability to adapt and thrive. Patients’ needs are often critical and immediate, and your tasks and goals will vary daily.

Your performance is based on metrics, such as cases completed, and the workday isn’t over until the work is done. Compassion, calm and focus are crucial in dealing with sudden rises in admission volume. A proactive, can-do attitude and willingness to stay until workloads are resolved are key to your success. This career will test your endurance, and your dedication to making the impossible seem increasingly probable. But we’ll be with you all the way.

This is a fast-paced and quickly-changing role, responsible for helping members with ever-evolving needs, in a field that is itself continually evolving. The ability to stay focused on members, yet flexible and highly-organized while immersing yourself in new aspects of quality patient care, are essential.

Commitment

Trust us. This is not a job for everyone. It takes a special kind of person who is creative, self-motivated and flexible, to thrive in our environment. We need people who can:

• Self-motivate – working with great independence and autonomy, while maintaining quality case load management and documentation
• Focus on members – continually ensuring solutions are in the best interest of members, while striving for maximum cost efficiency
• Embrace change – managing the constant evolution of health care, and the needs of our members
• Commit – embrace our shared values of Integrity, Compassion, Relationships, Innovation & Performance

Impact

The biggest reward you can enjoy in this role is the impact you make every day for our members. From educating members and providing resources for healthier living, to following and actively participating in members’ journeys toward more rewarding, fulfilled lives.

Now is the time, and this is the place where you’ll find a career in which you can make a big difference – in our company, in this industry, even in our world. If you’re looking for something better, look no further. You have arrived.

Additional Rewards

A career with UnitedHealth Group offers everything you’d expect from a world-class organization, including excellent benefits. There are abundant opportunities to learn and grow with monthly CEU accredited courses, and the ability to advance within a wide range of job families and roles. Just as important, you’ll belong to an elite team of people who share the values that align with yours: Integrity, Compassion, Relationships, Innovation and Performance. It’s a culture in which the things that make you special make us stronger.
